of Jersey City Law About Two Convictions of Liquor Brings About Two Convictions of Liquor Brailers Who Were Accused of Violating the Sanday Excles Law. The cases of eighteen Jersey City saloon gespers were on the calendar in the General stions Court yesterday. The men were to be tried for violating the law by selling liquor on Sunday. Only five of them were tried, and of these two were convicted, two acquitted, and in the other case the jury disagreed. The trials were the result of the crusade made by the Law and Order League last spring. The Rev. Dr. John L. Scudder, paster of the Tabernacle, the Rev. J. F. Morgan, and Dr. Chambers, leading members of the league, were interested spectators of the trials.

The first defendant called was Michael Farmer. who keeps a saloon at 344 Second street. Hugo Ritter, an agent of the Law and Order League testified that he went into Farmer's saloon or Sunday, May 24, through a side door and bought a glass of beer. Farmer was not there, but his brother Thomas served the beer.

Lawyer Allan L. McDermott cross-examined the witness and got him so rattled that he could not tell what kind of beer he drank. He said it was the kind of beer that makes a man intext-

"How many glasses did you drink !" asked

Mr. McDermott. One." answered the witness.

"It didn't intoxicate you, did it ?" 'No, but I felt the effects of it." "You were drunk before you went there

"No, sir, I had only three glasses."

"What is your capacity ?"

'My pastor ?" o, your capacity ?"

About twelve or fifteen glasses."

"Who employed you to do this work?"
"The Rev. Mr. Woertz."

"Who employed you to do this work?"

"The Rev. Mr. Woertz."

"Who paid you?"

"The Law and Order League,"

"They paid you for going around making a tank of yourself," commented Mr. Molermott. Prosecutor Winfield tried for five minutes to get the witness to say that it was lager beer that he drank, but could not make him understand the question, and so far as the jury knew from the evidence it might have been birch beer or Weiss beer, which do not come under the prohibition of the Sunday law.

Thomas Farmer, the proprietor's brother and bartender, was called, but could not remember where he was or what he was doing on the Sunday is question. The defendant was acquitted. Frank Bassford and John Glenn, proprietors of the imperial Hotel, in Exchange place, were next tried. The evidence against them was procured-by two very young men, Joel S. Hayes and John E. Thompson, who said they were private detectives. The two detectives went to Jersey City on May 24, and made a trip through Exchange place, Montgomery street, Newark avenue, Grove street, and Pavonia areane. They stopped in every saloon to which they could get admission and bought drinks. According to their testimony, they had very little difficulty in getting into the saloons, although the Sunday law was being rigidly enforced at the time by the authorities, and the saloon keepers knew that the Law and Order League spies were after them.

The detectives got whiskey and beer in the hotel café, but they did not see either of the proprietors there. Mr. McDermott argued that as the defendants had a hotel license they were authorized to keep open on Sunday am minister to the mater deliberating four hours.

Patrick McArdie of 7 Exchange place was tried on the same evidence and the Jury disagreed.

The next defendant was Archie Crossman of I Montgomery street. The detectives gave the same evidence in his case as they had in the other cases, and the jury acquitted him. By this time the panel of jurors had been exhausted and the other trials were postponed until today.

WANT CAB FARES REDUCED.

The Public Hack Owners' Plan to Braw frade from the Livery Stable Men.

The Public Hack Owners' Union, which is composed of men who own their own equipages, is going to fight the livery stable keepers in a novel way. At a meeting of the union held late on Sunday night it was resolved to petition the Board of Aldermen to resolved to patition the Board of Aidermen to confer a boon on the public by reducing fares to 25 cents instead of 50 cents a mile, and to 75 cents instead of 51 an hour. This seeming the property is accounted for by the fact that the hack owners are burd pressed by the competition of the livery stable men and so hedged in by city ordir ances that their business is now confined to picking up stray fares on the streets. The law prevents them from soliciting custom near the cab stands, and they think that they can draw custom away from the livery stables by reducing fares. ducing fares.

BURGLARS TOOK THEIR TIME.

House They Had Ransacked.

Burglars broke into Peter Morse's house, 33314 Payonia avenue, Jersey City, some time during Sunday night. Mr. Morse and his family were away attending the Chautauous meeting at Round Lake and did not get home until 8 A. M. yesterday. They found everything topsy turvy. Every room in the house had been visited. Just how much plunder the burgiers carried away cannot be accertained until Mrs. Morse make cannot be ascertained until Mrs. Morse makes an aventory. Several bundles containing clothing and bric-h-brac packed up ready for remeval were found on the lower floor. The police think that the burglars intended to return last sight and take the stuff away. The bedding had been removed from the bedsteads, the contents of every closet and every bureau and dressing case had been taken out and either strewn around the floors or packed up in bundles, and nothing had been left untouched.

Will Comprise 15 Vennels by Jan. 1, and Will Bendezvous at Hampton Bonds. WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.-The series of fice manouvres begun by Admiral Bunce in the early summer will end for the season when the vessels now at sea arrive at New York in about ten days, and most of the vessels will be ordered to the Brooklyn and Norfolk nav yards for overhauling preparatory to any with er work required. Since early last spring the ships have been at sea the greater part of the time carrying out the programme for evolutions designed by Admiral Bunce during hi winter stay in Hampton Roads, and for the first time in the history of the new navy th Government has been able to gather a sufficient number of vessels on one station for the purpose of fleet drills and manusuvres. work of the soundron tide season has been based on the general plan followed by the foreign naval tacticians when one fleet is en in the programme, and while brief stops have been made at the two headquarters at Hampton Roads and Tompkinsville, the average steaming of the ships shows that they have done almost as much active cruising in three months as many of the transitiantio liners. Certainly not since the new navy was started has a fleet been more actively engaged nor has any previously been sufficiently strong numerically to attempt the tactics employed by Admiral Bunce this summer.

The termination of the season's evolutions is not to be followed, however, by any disintegration of the fleet, nor are any of the ships now attached to the station to be retired, as has been stated' On the contrary, the autherities propose to maintain in commission not only every ship now under Admiral Bunce but to place at his disposal other ships as fast as they are ready for service. The first of the new additions will be the monitor 'Puritan, which goes in commission soon after Nov. 1, with Commander Cheeter or Capt. Hoff in command. This ship in many respects will be the most formidable 'vessel under Admiral Bunce, and unquesionably the best fighting ship of the monitor type affoat. About the same time the Marblehead will reach New York, and will join the fleet, and a few weeks later the little Castine will be here from the South Atlantis. Her stay may be brief, however, as she will probably return early next year with a draft of men for the Lannaster and Yantic.

Soon after the Puritan files her first pennant the great armored cruiser Brooklyn will be ready to take orders from Admiral Bunce, with Capt. Francis! Cook in charge. Not many weeks later the three gunboats building at Newport News will be ready for service, and for a few months will see duty on the home station, or until their presence in Chinese waters is required. These additions, with the vessels now under Bunce, will form one of the finest fleets this country has possessed, and certainly no equal number of ships in the world will be their superiors, either in defensive inactivity in the great fleet, unless disturbances arise in Cuu ao rother parts of the world calling for a strengthening of our navai force abroad. The families in the interior towns are terrorstricken with the renewal of Weyler's edict ordering that the wives and children of the insurgents who may attack any city or town be expelled to another province. This measure constitutes the greatest outrage upon the Cuban dignity. It aims at the corruption of families. Unscrupulous Spanish officers are well aware of the terrible power they can wield, and do not heatats to threaten virtuous women with the enforcement of the edict.

THE MASSACRE AT VAN.

One-fifth of Its Brend Winners Were Killed Greed of the Tax Collectors,

The Armenian Relief Association has received from the agent at Van a report for the month of August, which contains a brief summary of the massacre at that place. "The statistics for the city," it says, "are preity complete and, as presented by the head of the Armenian community, show that 547 persons were killed in the city during the massacre, of whom 519 were men, while 520 more of the latter class are missing-that is, left the city with the revolutionists and were killed between here and the Persian border. The whole number of deaths at the time of the massacre and as a result of it is put at 1,215. Estimating the Armenian popular lation of the city at 26,000, and counting one-quarter of this number as ablebodied males, or bread winners, it becomes evident if that one-sixth of this class was sacrificed in the city. Taking the whole vilayet and as far as reported, the number of killed and missing is 5,522, of whom 4,454 were from the class of bread winners, or nearly one-fifth in the vilayet. Statistics from some of the remoter districts are not yet in, and will considerably increase the proportion. The mere statement of this loss shows an immense increase of the need of help for the province. But to appreciate the situation, we must add to the account the immense loss of property which has taken place, and which is somewhat more difficult accurately to estimate. In the city 354 houses were burned, leaving their owners homeless. A low estimate of the pecuniary loss is $190,587. The number of houses robbed was 1,514 and the Bishop estimates the average loss at $500."
A report from Harpoot, dated Sept. 9, says:
"All our Christian towns and villages are now in great distress over the collection of taxes. A

A good many people come to me every day for advice and sympathy. They are cursed and beaten and their women insulted, and they are obliged to feet the collectors and their horses without remuneration. When I question villagers as to the condition of their villages, the almost universal reply is: 'Fire reigns in our village,' Those who were plundered, and whose houses were hursely and who become heges? village. Those who were plundered, and whose houses were burned, and who became beggars, are stripped of the little they had accumulated. Even the back taxes of former years are being collected. All this makes the prospect for the coming winter even darker than we had imagined. Mr. Footana, the British Consul, spoke to Shakir Pasha when he was here, and he has also spoken to the Vall about these oppressions, but both of these officials applications of their conduct by saying that all officials had seen for many months without salary. Some zaptiehs say they have permission to do anything they please to the people, and that they will not be called to account."

THE TRACKS ON ATLANTIC AVENUE. An Ex-Alderman Says the Long Island Railroad Company Has no Right to Them. The Commission which was appointed by the last Legislature to consider plans for the improvement of Atlantic avenue in Brooklyn, had another hearing yesterday. As at the previous hearings, the question of the removal Long Island rallroad tracks in some way from the surface of the avenue was considered the the surface of the arenue was considered the vital point involved.

The reports of the engineers, hitherto submitted showed that from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 would be required to depress the tracks and rearrange the sewers and water mains. Exalderman Waikley told the Commission that the only way to solve the difficulty was to dried the railroad commany from the avenue, as it had forfeited its right to it by breaking a contract it made years ago to remove the tracks. He characterized the company as a treapasser on the property of the city.

It is understood that the Commission will report in favor of the depression of the tracks, the expense to be borne in about equal proportions by the city and the railroad company.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the VV transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condi-tion of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is the ill important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you pur-chase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely med and g'ves most general satisfaction.

STOPPED HIS OWN DUEL.

The Tanin Inspector of Police Arrests the Men Who Bring Him a Challenge. The Inspector of Police in Tunis, while out walking with a handsome French girl about four weeks ago, was irritated by the admiring glances bestowed on her by a French Lieutenant. Eventually he turned on the officer caught him or the nose, and told him he was a dog. The officer demanded the Inspector's pard, and got it. The next morning two joung men called at the Inspector's office and introduced themselves as the Lieutenant's sec onds. The Inspector listened to their proposa of a duel. He let them go on until they ap proached the subject of pistols, then interrupt

"My lear sirs, you challenge me to fight a I desire to fight, but I am torn by a conflict of duties. As a private man, I should accept the challenge, but as an officer of the law I am bound to enforce the statute against cept the challenge, but as an officer of the law I am bound to enforce the statute against duels. My official duty always comes first with me, and therefore, in the name of the law, I arrest you both as bearers of an unlawful message, and as helpers and abettors in an unlawful undertaking.

The Inspactor's little speech was not a little loke. He locked up the two seconds at once, and he kent them locked up for two days and a night. Then the Lieutenant found out what had become of his missing friends, and by an appeal to the local Governor, obtained their release. He did not send any more seconds, and the duel was still unfought when the last mall left Europe.

WHY DR. CARIWRIGHT LEAVES.

A Personal Difference with the Vestrymon as to the Choir. There is a personal difference between the Rev. Dr. T. S. Cartwright, pastor of the St. Barnabas Protestant Episcopal Church in Bush-wich avenue, near Kossuth place, Brooklyn, and several of the vestrymen, which Dr. Cartwright says he intends to settle in a few days by sending in his resignation. He declined last evening to tell what caused the personal difference and the vestrymen also declined to talk about it, but it is said that the pastor and his vestry-men differed on a question concerning the hoir. He has not been attending the church for over He has not been attending the church for over a week, and his place was taken on Sunday by the Rev. Father Simpson. Dr. Cartwright said last night that his health had broken down from overwork and he had intended to resign, even had the personal difference not arisen. He lives with his wife and son at 66 Linden place, Brooklyn.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS.

Their Newspapers Bitterly Attacked in Their Annual Congress.

GOTHA, Oct. 12,-The annual Congress of the German Socialist party was opened at Sieblichen, near this city, to-day. Three hundred delegates were present, including many women. Herr Singer, one of the Socialist leaders in the Reichstag, was elected President of the Congress, and Herr Bock, Socialist Deputy for Gotha, Vice-President,

After the Congress was opened by Herr Singer the order of business was announced. The af-fairs of the Socialist press were discussed with much warmth. Some of the reproaches which had been cast upon the conduct of the literary department of the organization were found to be justified, and the great deficiency of suitable men to conduct the Socialistic journals was ad-mitted.

Several speakers declared that too many injudicious enterprises in the way of newspapers had been manugurated.
The Congress rejected Herr Meister's brief report setting forth that the high prices chargeable to the maintenance of the Vorwert's printing establishment were justified. The party leaders were assailed in lively fashion for not having sufficiently devoted themselves to agitation, and few speakers outside of the leaders themselves defended them.

As soon as the announcement was made the Rev. Henry T. Beatty, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, complained to this of Police Donovan, and called upon the latter to stop the show. The Chief compiled and Manager Black was obliged to refund the money which he had taken in for tickets.

Robbed St. John's Custom House, Sr. Jonn's, N. F., Oct. 12,-The man who robbed the Custom House of a large sum of money has been arrested. The belief that the money has been arrested. The belief that the money was stolen during the progress of the fire that occurred in the Custom House last week proves unfounded. The thief was sinployed as a messenger, and was intrusted with the collection of treasury business orders, which enabled him to appropriate to his own use large sums during the past two months. The full extent of the embezziements is not yet known.

Was Thinking About a Line. This story comes from Pine Plains, N. Y.: A well-known young man called on his best girl on Thursday evening, and in spite of his most lively efforts conversation lagged. After a silence of considerable duration she asked him what he was thinking about. He, hoping to please her, replied; "I was thinking of the same please her, repned, thing you were: She, turning around, answered quicker than lightning:

"I'll slap your mouth if you try it." Adne, Not Adee, Frederic W. Adee writes to THE SUN to say that the young man whose marriage to Lillian Green, a concert hall singer, was announced last week, is not a member of the Ades family. His name is Charles Flamen Ades, and it is said that he is a graduate of Columbia, and not of Yale, as was first reported.

TOMB IN ST. PAUL'S DESECRATED. Dr. Dix's Office Ransacked Also-Why, Is a Puzzle to the Police.

The motive of the person or persons who entered St. Paul's churchyard on Thursday night last, and after removing the slab and some bricks from a tomb that age has left nameless, broke a window in the office of the Rev. Dr. Dix and threw things around in the office for a while, is a puzzle to the police and to the officers of the Trinky Corporation. The thieves didn't get a thing of value in Dr. Dix's office save an out Trinity Corporation. The thieves didn't get a thing of value in Dr. Diz's office save an oul English clock, which was valued at $90. They had no use for that, and threw it into an ash barrel, for the janitor to find in the morning.

The tomb is one of the oldest in the yard, so old that the inscription on the top has became entirely obliterated, and there is not a paper among the records in the vaults of the Trinity Corporation to show who is buried there or how many years ago the tomb was built. On either side of it are tombs dated 1780 and 1797, and the inscriptions on these century-old monuments are clear to the haked eye.

Above ground the tomb is a rectangle of brick wall, sided up with stone and covered by a tone slab. After removing the slab, the vandals heren moving the crumbling bricks and mortar work from the inside. They didn't work at this long, for very few bricks were disturbed. With one of the bricks they smashed the window of Dr. Dix's office. Then they entered the office, and, after creating general disorder in the room, went away, carrying the clock with them. They left a beer bottle in the office.

The police think that the whole thing was the work of a drunken man or a lunatic. The Trinity people think that possible, but lean more favorably to the theory that a couple of third-class thieves planned to loot the offices of the Trinity Corporation under the impression that valuables were kept there and opened the grave, intending to store the heavy booty there until an opportunity came of carrying it off. The chances of catching the thieves are regarded as very small.

A. C. Dougherty of the Hotel Lincoln, Broadway and Fifty-second street, told Police Capt. Westervelt last night that, coming back from New Jersey last Thursday night, he waited up Vesey attent and saw a tramplah-looking man spreading out his coat on the ground in the churchyaid near the tomb that was afterward disturbed. He supposed the man was making ready to go to sleep there, and he passed on, thinking no more of it.
